County Turns Thumbs Down On 'Diamond'

Proposal that a "cloverleaf" ype traffic interchange be installed at Willow road and Bayshore freeway, rather than a "diamond-type" interchange, got more champions this week with the San Mateo county board of supervisors and traffic safety commission adding their endorsements for the larger structure.

The supervisors' action was taken Tuesday afternoon, when they "failed to pass" a resolution of agreement with the state division of highways, which would have endorsed the "diamond." They also directed a letter to highway department officers, explaining that they felt the larger interchange would be the best for the grade crossing.

A dissenting vote was cast by board of supervisors' Chairman Alvin Hatch, who took the stand that continuance of Bayshore freeway through the county was of prime importance, and that requests for modifications of existing plans might slow the project.

The county's traffic safety commission discussed the project Monday night. They agreed that there was "no comparison" between safety factors of the "diamond"—the plan currently shown on high way plans—and the "cloverleaf"—for which several county and area agencies are plugging.

STATE STAND

The state division of highways has explained why it favors the diamond: Expense of land acquisition would rise sharply if a "cloverleaf" is installed; capacity of the latter is so great that maximum use could be made of the structure only if Willow road is made a "limited access" thoroughfare.

The "diamond," according to the highway department's engineers, will adequately handle all traffic from Willow if the street is improved as planned to a six-lane, 92-foot right of way.

Menlo Park city council has indicated it "goes along" with the plan for the smaller grade separation, but would be "happy" if the highway department should change its mind.

Oakwood Inn Being Razed

The old Oakwood Inn, at 75 Middlefield road, is being torn down this week, to make way for a new market on the property.

The restaurant, well known in this area, was operated for the past 17 years by Dan Atell. Atell said yesterday that the structure was built in the late 1920's, having been in operation as an eatery at least six years before he assumed operation.

H. S. Shelton of Menlo Park is contractor in charge of demolition of the building.

Site plans for the new market were approved several months ago by the Menlo Park planning commission. Name of the prospective lessee has not yet been given.

San Carlos Seen As Soot Source

Heavy soot which last Wednesday descended upon Menlo Park may have emanated from a San Carlos industrial plant, Mayor Michael L. Belangie said personal investigations showed this week.

The mayor said one such plant admitted heavy smoke came from its boilers for a short time shortly before 8 a. m. First report of soot here reached police at 8:29 a. m. There was a 5-mile-an-hour northwesterly wind blowing at the time.

United Crusade Launches Home Canvass Here

Residential area solicitation for the United Crusade got underway in the Menlo Park and Atherton area yesterday, as advance gifts chairmen from both cities reported themselves in sight of goals.

In Menlo Park, the home area canvas got started under the direction of Mrs. Frank Merrill; in Atherton, it is under the direction of Mrs. Louis Lundborg. Neighborhood area workers were to start work following "briefing" yesterday morning.

Meanwhile, in Menlo Park, Advance Gift Chairman Melvin B. Lane, Sunset magazine business manager, reported that 82 per cent of Menlo Park's advance gifts quota has been reached, although only two-thirds of the prospects have been contacted.

In Atherton, a similar situation existed with Advance Gifts Chairman John Wickett reporting things "going well," though not giving final figures.

TO CANVASS FOR DRIVE

TO CALL on Menlo Park area residents in the next few days are canvassers under the direction of Mrs. Robert Merrill, center, the United Crusade's Menlo Park area chairman for residential solicitation. Shown being briefed are Mrs. J. T. Alburger and Mrs. Elizabeth Ryder, both of whom are among those in charge of separate areas of the city. Menlo Camera Shop photo.

In Menlo Park, too, start of other phases of the campaign was indicated with appointment, during the week, of two more chairmen to head other divisions of the drive.

These include George Shellard, Allstate insurance company executive who has been named head of the employee solicitation division for this city, whose workers will canvass all firms having 20 or more employees and Dr. Frank Novak, who will head the professional division collection group.

According to plans, Shellard said, each firm contacted by his division will have its own "in shop" employee - management committee, which will conduct the Crusade on the grounds.

The United Crusade in which Menlo Park and Atherton are participating is Bay area-wide, with the entire undertaking being chairmanned by Adrian Falk of Atherton.

Top officials in the campaign include Atherton's Mayor Harry Mitchell, who is co-chairman for San Mateo county and Proctor Jones, who is chairman for the south county area.

Atherton's quota for the fund drive is $33,000. Mrs. Lundborg and Wickett agreed this week that they will attempt to get their city "over the top" by the time a "report meeting" of county Crusade agencies is held Nov. 10.

Menlo Park's quota for the drive has been set at $36,287.

MANY AGENCIES

County agencies participating in the drive include the county Heart association, the Arthritis and Rheumatism foundation and the agencies of the Community Chest; in all, there are about 25 such groups.

Brigadier General George A. Miller (ret.) and Rear Admiral C. Julian Wheeler (USN ret.) are co-chairmen for the drive for Menlo Park.

Belle Haven Bus Route Parley Slated

Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce's transportation committee is this week compiling statistics and seeking the endorsement of resident groups in Belle Haven and Suburban park, in readiness for a Nov. 17 informal meeting with the city council.

Recent growth of population in the areas affected, particularly east of Bayshore, justify direct bus service between that area and downtown Menlo Park, according to the C. of C. group.

SEEK ENDORSEMENT

Meanwhile, according to Chamber Secretary-Manager Gene Hammond, the group is seeking endorsement of its efforts by the Belle Haven Mutual Improvement sasociation and the Suburban Park Improvement association. Both of these groups are expected to have representatives at the Nov. 17 meeting, as are representatives of Peninsula Transit lines, bus company serving the area.

Transportation committee members have already contacted members of the residents' groups and garnered figures from them.

According to these, population of Belle Haven east of Bayshore has grown from 2638 to 3799 between July of 1951 and October, 1953; population of Suburban park and that portion of Belle Haven west of the highway has grown from 2135 to 2198 during the same period.

Total population of both areas is 5997 as compared with 4773 only a little more than two years ago.

Present population make-up indicates that, in future years, east of the highway Belle Haven will produce about 800 high school students, at present, there is no public means of transportation available to take them to school with the exception of school buses.

GIVE FIGURES

Peninsula Transit officials have also been contacted, according to Hammond. Bus company officials hold that three per cent of the population within a quarter of a mile of any bus route are "potential customers;" it also assumes that bus riders are "round trip" riders, statistically.

Each bus operated by the company must be able to bring in a return of $40 per day, which includes wages of the driver and other costs of operation.

Service east of Bayshore highway will be modified, somewhat, to fit the fact that the only safe crossing which a bus may use is at Willow road. However, Hammond comments, a similar situation exists in East Palo Alto, and buses operated by the Penisula Transit firm cross the highway only at University avenue.

When the C. of C. transportation committee first met, he pointed out, it decided that there were two major areas in which bus service could be improved. These included the creation of service from Belle Haven and Suburban park to the downtown areas, and the creation of adequate service for employes in the Linfield Oaks professional-administrative zone.

The latter project has been tabled, Hammond said, so the committee can devote itself entirely to solving the first, more urgent problem.

Members of the transportation committee include Loren Anderson, chairman; Elmo Hayden, Earle Jones, Louis Kaiser and Gene Bastanion.

Store Window Painting Plans Underway

Final preparations for the Menlo Park Lion's club annual Hallowe'en window painting contest, which will see Menlo Park area school children doing their bit for temporary decoration of the business district, were in the works this week.

The painting itself, in accordance with preliminary drawings now being made by the children at the area's schools, will get underway Tuesday, reports chairman Vern Frane. On that day and on Wednesday, Menlo Park's young artists will be at work.

Judging of the windows, for the purpose of awarding cash prizes, will be undertaken on Thursday and Friday of next week, he added. Names of the judges — all of whom will be prominent in the community— will not be announced until the time the awards are made.

Meanwhile, under the honorary chairmanship of Fire District Chief Thomas F. Cuff, the Lions were adding details to their plans for parties for younger members of the communtiy, to be presented on the night of Hallowe'en itself.

Recently added to the list of schools where the Lions will sponsor parties is Central school; the service club will also be in charge of events at St. Joseph's school, Fremont school and Hillview school; in addition, a dance is to be held at Burgess park gym for the benefit of 'teenagers.

Parties at other schools in the Menlo Park area are being planned by the P-TA's of the units affected.

To Reduce Confusion:

'North Palo Alto Area' Ceases to Exist; From Now On, Call It 'The Willows'

What was formerly known as the "North Palo Alto area" is henceforth to be known as "The Willows."

This was decided Tuesday night, when approximately 100 residents of the area gathered at the Willow school multi-purpose room and voted for the name change.

John Chaffet, president of the area's residents' association (name of which was also automatically changed from the "North Palo Alto" to "The Willows Residents' association") said the new name "won handily" on a final ballot by those attending.

The name was applied to a part of the area as early as the 1920's when a part of it was subdivided and given that name.

The area to which the new name applies includes all of that annexed to Menlo Park two and a half years ago.

"The name will be of advantage to residents of the area, in that it will eliminate confusion about post office addresses, and correct the impression that a part of Menlo Park is considered more closely allied than it is to the city of Palo Alto," Chaffet said.

He added that the new name is expected to be greeted wholeheartedly by area residents, especially by P-TA officers and members and by real estate men.

The former will recognize that it "ties in" more closely with the name of the area's school and the latter will benefit by the new name which distinguishes the area from others across San Francisquito creek, Chaffet said.

Tuesday night's meeting climaxed a contest which started June 1 and closed Sept. 30, during which all of the area's 1200 households were contacted for submission of possible names.

In the League:

BURGESS A VEEP

Menlo Park City Councilman and former Mayor Charles P. Burgess was elected vice president of the League of California Cities late yesterday in San Francisco. Burgess resides at 1280 Garden lane.

Rising steadily in the ranks of the League, currently holding its annual convention, Burgess has served in other capacities on the organization's executive board for the past several years. In normal course of events, he is in line for president of the organization next year.

His family includes his wife and daughter, Helen, the latter currently a student at Menlo-Atherton high school.

Atherton Council To Meet Monday

So far as was known late yesterday, business of the Atherton town council would be "strictly routine" when that body holds its regular meeting next Monday evening at the Atherton town hall, Station lane and Ashfield road.

The council meets at 5:30 p. m. on last Mondays of the month. The council's agenda for this month has not yet been made up, according to Town Clerk W. Howard Boren.

Need Seen Urgent:

Menlo Park School Trustees Order New Bus For District to Prevent Overloading

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees late Tuesday called for bids for a 71-passenger, transit-type bus "or equivalent" to help alleviate crowding on the three buses operated by the district.

Nov. 9, date of the next regular meeting of the trustees, has been set as date for the bid opening. Tuesday's meeting was a special one, called to assure purchase of the unit at the earliest possible date.

School board members had last week authorized District Superintendent Mel Homfeld to explore methods whereby the district could obtain a bus, through county purchasing department facilities, in order to eliminate red tape and further shorten the "waiting period" before a bus can be delivered.

NEED REVEALED

It was at last week's regular meeting of the board that need for the new bus, based on the fact that some of the district's buses were carrying as much at 50 per cent more than their capacity of pupils on some runs, was first revealed.

The number of children using the buses at the current time is described as a "negligible" percentage of the pupils within the district: however, rainy weather is expected soon and with it, more children are expected to be riding.

Last week, the trustees ordered bus drivers to "stop loading and proceed to school" when the capacity of a bus had been reached, even though it meant "doubling back" and the possibility that some children would reach classrooms late.

The following figures were submitted by Homer Alderman, principal at Fremont school and district "bus figure compiler":

Bus number 1 (capacity 50) was carrying 36 on its first morning run, 48 on its second morning run, 67 on its third trip and 47 on its last morning trip.

Bus number 2 (capacity 32) was, before the ban on "overloading," carrying 47 on its first morning run, 49 on its second trip and 42 on its third trip.

Bus 3 (capacity 42) was carrying 36 on its first run, 64 on its second, 61 on its third, and 47 on its final morning outing.

STILL HEAVIER LOADS

All the figures were "dry weather" figures and most of the children riding were qualified by the fact that they were under third-grade age or lived more than a mile from school.

In discussions last week, however, it was pointed out that distance was not the only factor in considering who should be bus passengers.

Some pupils, according to Alderman, have to cross especially dangerous streets or intersections in order to reach school even though they live only a short distance from their place of study.

The district's present buses are not assigned to single schools, since there are five schools in the district and only three buses, according to Homfeld. Sometimes, the buses will carry children from, or to, two schools on a single run.

The 71-passenger bus, when purchased, will be assigned in a similar manner, so that maximum use may be made of its capacity, Homfeld said. This should eliminate over-capacity runs and leave some room to spare in case of inclement weather.

Hallowe'en Dance Tomorrow Night At Menlo-Atherton

Hallowe'en will come to Menlo-Atherton a week early this year as, amid witches and jack o' lanterns, couples will cavort to the music of Menlo-Atherton's dance band tonight at the "Hallowe'en Hop."

A giant, eerie cavern, complete with huge cobwebs, stalactites and skeletons will transform the multi-purpose room for the affair which will be from 8 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. Carol Fogle and Emily Arnold have been planning the decorations for this second dance of the year.

A prize is to be awarded for the cleverest and most unusual mask worn by any student at the dance. Other than the mask, dress is sport, which includes slacks and shirts or sweater for the boys and sweaters and skirts for the girls.

Entertainment during the evening will be provided by Pat Franklin and Arden Venier, vocalists for the band and skits by different members of the combo.

"I'm sure the dance will be a success," recently commented Dave Sexton, commissioner of cultural activities, who as a representative of the band is in charge of the evening. "With two more weeks of practice behind us than we had at the "Howdy Dance," the band should be that much better."

Raising money for the band, besides providing entertainment for the students is the main purpose of the dance.

Other committees for the "couples only" affair are refreshments, under Ron Williams, and clean-up headed by John Yarborough.

Library Display:

ABOUT KOREA

Although the fighting has stopped, Korea is still much in the news and doubtless will be for some time.

With a view to encouraging an understanding of the people and problems of that war torn land, the Menlo Park branch of the San Mateo county library is currently featuring a display on Korea.

Books, pictures, dolls, articles of clothing and other items, help to give you some idea of life in his primitive land.

The library staff hope you will come in to see the exhibit which has been loaned by Miss Virginia Ross, assistant county librarian.

Cuff 'On Feet' But in Cast

Menlo Park Fire District Chief Thomas F. Cuff, who suffered a back injury in an accident at his home Sept. 30 is "on his feet" again.

This was reported yesterday by Palo Alto hospital attendants, who said the Chief, with a plaster cast lending its support while a cracked vertebrae mends, is now able to stand up.

He will not be out of the hospital for several days yet, however.

Chief Cuff is currently missing sessions of the Fire Chiefs' division of the League of California CRities, in convention in San Francisco this week.

Land Use Maps Will Highlight Booster Meeting Nov. 4

East Palo Alto is one step nearer to having a "master plan," for maps of a land use survey, recently completed for the San Mateo County Planning Commission, will be presented at the next Ravenswood Booster meeting November 4, for discussion and study.

The survey, spearheaded by the Boosters, was conducted by members and other citizens of the area, at the request of the commission, which is using East Palo Alto as one of the test areas for future planning in conjunction with wishes of local residents.

According to Edward F. Carpenter, president, the zoning committee will meet with the Boosters to begin the planning study for the community.

The meeting will be conducted at Ravenswood school at 8 p. m.

Minor Accident In Menlo Park

Minor damage was done to two autos late Sunday, in a "rear end" mishap at Middlefield and Willow roads.

The accident occurred, according to Menlo Park police officers, when a car driven by Stella M. Holden, 491 Ninth avenue, 47, North Fair Oaks, slowed to turn onto Willow road and was struck in the rear by a car driven by David H. Christy, 16, of Redwood City.

Both cars were northbound at the time.

After Suicide:

EDITOR WONDERS

Recorder Editor Clarence A. Burley still is wondering whether Hugh D. Pless, unemployed veteran who killed himself Oct. 14, was the anonymous telephone caller who, the previous week, called the newspaper to inquire how it "handled" suicides.

The mysterious caller of Oct. 7 was told that, normally, this newspaper reports suicides much like any other type of obituary, except in cases where prominence of the victim, or other special circumstances, justify heavier "play."

The caller inquired whether "being a veteran" entitled a suicide to more newspaper space than that ordinarily allocated. He also asked what hour was the Recorder's news deadline and was told "Wednesday noon."

Burley attempted to trace the call but was unsuccessful; he also notified police, who made a check of persons who recently had threatened suicide.

The mysterious caller was not found but Pless committed suicide the following Wednesday afternoon.

The event might have been reported last week except that the sheriff's deputies were called to the scene rather than the Menlo Park police officers.

"Phone checks" of out-of-town news sources were finished by the time Pless pulled the trigger of the Luger pistol which sent a bullet through his head.

Rev. Don Hall Plans 'Southwest' Program

On Nov. 1, the Rev. Don Emerson Hall, pastor of the Menlo Park Presbyterian church and Mrs. Hall will present the second of two illustrated talks based on the highlights of their summer experiences while visiting the national missions field in the southwest.

The program, to be illustrated with slides, will be presented at the church, Santa Cruz avenue and Johnston street. It will feature scenes taken, showing national mission work among the Spanish speaking peoples of the area.

Members of the Ravenswood Teen club elected a foursome recently to their council; those named include Dick English for the frosh; Pat Nolan, sophomores; Sherry Long, juniors; and Sharon Forcier, seniors.

The representatives gather to discuss rules, policy and programming for the club.

The Teen set meets every Monday evening from 7 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. for ping pong, shuffle board, dancing, TV viewing and other activities. Membership is open to all high school students within the Ravenswood Park, Recreation and Parkway district.

It's Getting Late!

Postmaster Reminds Residents of Season With Call for Overseas Yule Mailing Now

That the year is fast drawing to its close is evident to almost everybody but just how close to an end it is was emphasized with issuance of a word, this week, from Menlo Park Postmaster Harry B. Morey:

"Christmas mail for members of the armed forces overseas should be mailed now, between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15."

And he added a few other tips:

Air parcel post should be mailed not later than Nov. 25 and is limited to two pounds weight and 30 inches combined length and girth.

"Owing to the long sea transit frequently involved in the transmission of parcels by surface means," says the postmaster, "senders should mail other packages destined for overseas as early as possible."

To be sure that such packages get to their destination, Morey gave a "time table" of closing dates:

For South and Central America, Nov. 22; for Europe, Nov. 15; for Africa, Nov. 1; for the Near East, Nov. 1 and for the Far East, Oct. 15.

That means that one deadline is already past.

Morey adds other tips:

Military personnel are well supplied with food in all countries, and parcels containing foodstuffs subject to breakage and spoilage are apt to be unfit for use, anyhow, by the time they reach their destination.

The term "armed forces overseas" as understood by the post office applies to members of the services, their families, and authorized civilian employees overseas.

Regular size and weight limits for domestic surface parcel post are applicable to Christmas parcels for the armed forces, Morey concludes.

Movie 'Jewels' On Display Here

Currently on display in a show window in front of the Guild theater, El Camino Real at Ravenswood avenue in Menlo Park, are original pieces of costume jewelry created for, and worn by, Hollywood actresses in famous productions of several years ago.

C. M. Bradley, manager of the Park and Guild theaters here, said it is the first time in his 25 years of experience that he has been able to display such items. The current display includes four pieces of jewelry, having a value of $5000, loaned by Mr. and Mrs. Winston Sparrow of Atherton.

Pieces include a simulated ruby ring worn by Joan Crawford in "Humoresque;" a cleavage pin worn by Lana Turner in "The Three Musketeers;" a crown worn by Shirley Temple in "The Little Princess" and a simulated emerald necklace worn by Tallullah Bankhead in "A Royal Scandal."

With the pieces are photos of the stars wearing the jewelry, as they appeared in the films.

Other pieces of jewelry will be similarly displayed during the month, according to Bradley.

'COFFEE HOUR'

Nov. 17 has been set as date for the new "coffee hour" at Menlo-Atherton high school, at which parents of freshmen at the school are invited to meet with instructors. The gathering, sponsored by the P-TA, will convene at 9:30 a. m. at the teachers' lunchroom.

Police, School Officials Work For 'Bike Safety'

Menlo Park Police Sergeant Joe Ferriera is this week making calls at schools within the city of Menlo Park, in the Menlo Park Elementary School District, giving children some first-hand instruction in bicycle safety.

The classroom calls were set up in the wake of a group of mishaps in Menlo Park and Atherton, involving youthful bicycle riders. Menlo Park and Atherton police officers have already joined in issuing a "bicycle safety code"

Menlo Park Elementary School District Superintendent Mel Homfeld this week reiterated his request that "bike safety" talks be given young riders by their parents at home, to augment the training.

Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard, meanwhile, reported that representatives of his department have paid calls at all classrooms of schools in that town.

At the same time, he said, the officers have been stopping cyclists whenever the latter have been observed indulging in unsafe riding practices, and have cautioned them about the menace involved.

FOR CLOSER TIES

Ever since Belle Haven and Suburban Park became part of the incorporated city of Menlo Park in 1949, it has been apparent that more than official annexation procedures was necessary to integrate that area with the rest of the community.

The Belle Haven Mutual Improvement Association and the Suburban Park Residents Association both have done an excellent job of working with the city on their local problems and have developed a fine degree of civic spirit.

But when it is almost impossible for a citizen to travel to the heart of his city, civic ties naturally are tenuous.

And certainly such physical contact has long been made as difficult as possible for those who live east of Bay road, even more so for those east of the Bayshore highway.

It is hard enough for those residents even to drive into the heart of Menlo Park—via narrow, crooked, bumpy streets . . . up Willow or Ringwood to Middlefield, then over to Ravenswood, then to the bottleneck where Ravenswood, Alma street, the Southern Pacific tracks, Merrill street and the El Camino Real all get together to create traffic chaos.

Certainly it has been hard enough for the resident with a car at hand to get "into town," but his problems have been nothing compared to the person forced to use public transportation. Ride the bus? Theres isn't any . . . to take him where he wants to go.

The city now is taking steps to help the auto traveller. Being put on the master plan is extension of Willow through to El Camino in the neighborhood of Cambridge avenue and a proposal to simplify the Ringwood-Ravenswood route and add an underpass at the railroad.

And at long last something may be done for the bus rider.

Many attempts have been made to create bus service between the Belle Haven area and the central Menlo Park shopping district. All have stumbled over objections of the bus company —Peninsula Transit lines—that such routes would not pay.

Thoughts of subsidizing a route or creating a municipal bus line have been chewed over, but no one seemed ready to swallow such a plan.

Now the transportation committee of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce has gone at the problem with the attitude that something will be done because it MUST.

New population figures have been compiled showing a 26 per cent increase in two years. These figures and new route proposals are to be discussed with the city council, representatives of the bus company and of the area residents associations on Nov. 17.

We believe that the bus company, which now operates complicated loops through the area to and from Palo Alto, would find similar routes to and from Menlo Park just as heavily patronized.

If the bus company does not believe so, we think someone else would be willing to try and should be encouraged to do so.

Good luck to the chamber of commerce committee in their efforts. It is time the Belle Haven and Suburban Park areas were tied to Menlo Park in more than name.

WELCOME 'THE WILLOWS'

Already closer geographically to the rest of Menlo Park than the Belle Haven area is the district that used to be known as North Palo Alto.

Residents of that area this week took steps to draw closer to the city in spirit.

Under guidance of the area residents association, citizens of the district decided to call themselves "The Willows" and to abandon the "North Palo Alto" forever.

The new title has ties with tradition in that a portion of the area has caried over that name from a subdivision of the 1920's. It will eliminate confusion with the municipality across the creek and in another county.

We are glad to add the name of the Willows Residents Association to our roster of active area groups and to erase that of the North Palo Alto Residents Association.

Welcome to "The Willows."

IT'S FLYING!

What's flying? Why, Time, of course.

Hallowe'en is upon us. Then comes Thanksgiving. Then Christmas.

Postmaster Harry B. Morey this week warned that Christmas parcels going overseas should be mailed before Nov. 15. That's only three weeks off.

Your City's Business:

Budget Outlay Is Regulated By 'Performance'

By C. L. LONGSON

(City Manager, Menlo Park)

"Municipal finance" was one of the more vital topics discussed at a recent annual meeting of the International City Managers' association in Los Angeles and as a phase of this "performance budgeting" came under discussion.

Although Menlo Park's budgetary requirements, by departments, have been discussed in this column previously, it is also of interest to discuss them along the lines of when and how expenditures will be made.

This matter has proved of interest to all city managers. For although budgets approved by city councils set the city's total expenditures every year, good administrative procedure requries that each purchase be carefully scheduled so that adequate cash balances are on hand at all times.

For instance in Menlo Park, tax monies collected normally are paid to the city by the collecting agency, the county, in two large payments a year. These are in March and June.

If the city were to purchase, say, all its new police cars, street maintenance machines, and other "capital outlay" items in July and August, it would probably be difficult to meet payrolls in February.

The job of setting up the plan of when services will be rendered and when such expenditures will be made, with an eye to keeping municipal activities going at an even rate through the year, falls to the city manager.

"A growing number of cities are adopting the city manager-council plan of organization, which gives complete recognition to the budgetary process."

In setting up the schedule of services and expenditures, one first considers payrolls. In Menlo Park, where street department, parks department and water department workers can be shifted back and forth as the need arises, the payroll is relatively stable.

There are no seasonal layoffs and when work budgeted for one department is completed, the working force can be transferred to another department. Not only is this advantageous from the point of view of payroll stability; it pays big dividends in aiding up in keeping the best available men working full time.

However, one can easily see that planning ahead is necessary, if there is to be enough cash on hand to meet payroll expenses during the "low spot" in January and February.

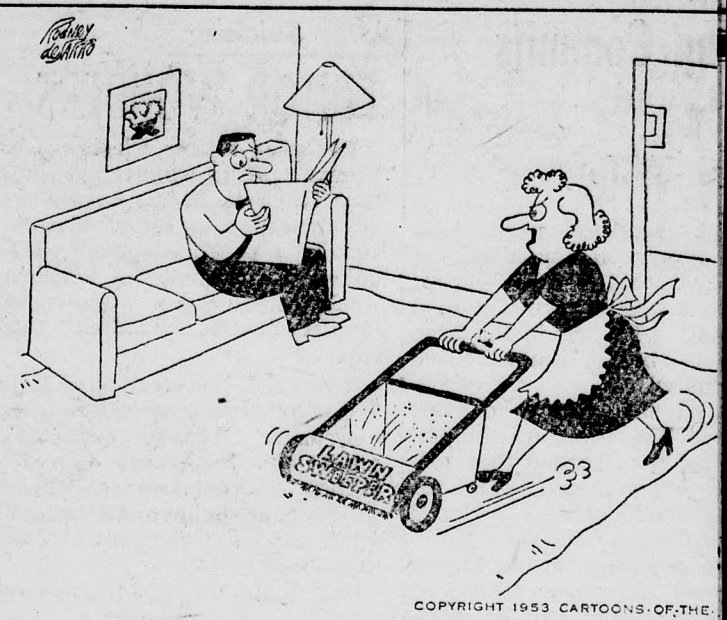

Insurance payments must also be considered.

In past years, the city has taken the "cash balance on hand" into account when scheduling the purchase of trucks, police cars and other equipment; however, the city is planning to set up an equipment replacement fund so that heavy equipment may be purchased at any time during the fiscal year.

Although Menlo Park's "performance budget" has been in operation ever since the city council - manager organization was adopted in 1948, the name for such budgeting is relatively new.

The first article defining and discussing it appeared in the ICM journal only last month; discussion of the importance of such a "performance budget" was presented, for the first time, at the Los Angeles meeting.

When fully developed, performance budgeting can mean that your city government will operate at continuous full efficiency throughout the year, without being influenced by the fact that it gets about 40 per cent of its income in June and 60 per cent of its income in March.

"All year long there was plenty of money for the things you needed!"

'UN Week' Hailed With Proclamation By Mayor Belangie

Menlo Park Mayor Michael L. Belangie this week called on residents of the city to observe United Nations week, Oct. 19 through 25, and called on persons of all religious denominations in the city to offer prayers for the success of the international agency's efforts.

The Mayor's request came in the form of a proclamation which reads:

PROCLAMATION

"Be It Known to All Persons, that our Nation will observe the eighth anniversary of the United Nations Oct. 19, 1953 through Oct. 25, 1953.

"Whereas, the City of Menlo Park deems it a great privilege to honor the United Nations in the great task of world cooperation for the perpetuation of peace, and it is the desire of our local government that all persons of all ages, all walks of life irregardless of race or creed, participate in this memorable anniversary by appropriate celebration and demonstration, recognizing the necessity for peace among the nations of the world and the work of the United Nations in its endeavors for world peace,

"Now, Therefore, I do hereby proclaim United Nations week in Meno Park, and call upon all residents to observe this occasion by appropriate celebration and demonstration, and all religious denominations therein offer prayer for the success of the United Nations in their work for world peace."

Walter:

HAS SHIVERS

"Br-r-r-r . . ." said Walter the Weathermouse, as he shivered into the office this week.

"What's the matter," we asked, "Cold?"

Walter jumped to the middle of the top of the largest table in the office, peered anxiously around for a few minutes and then, apparently feeling better, observed,

"Nope. It's just that Hallowe'en's approaching. Never can tell where you'll run into a black cat, these days."

Menlo Park Woman Donates $300,000 To Stanford U.

Largest gift to be received by Stanford university during the 1952-53 fiscal year was a donation of securities valued in excess of $300,000, donated by a Menlo Park woman, it was announced this week from the university.

The donor was Mrs. Silas H. Palmer, a lifetime resident of this area. The family home is at 250 Watkins avenue.

Mrs. Palmer is the daughter of the late Charles Holbrook, who established the family's Menlo Park area residence in 1880. She and her husband celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on June 30 of this year.

Mrs. Palmer's gift will be used to establish an unrestricted endowment fund, according to university trustees.

Mrs. Palmer's husband, a retired engineer, was partner in the construction firm of Palmer and McBride, of San Francisco, from 1903 to 1930. During his active business career, he was a director of the Bank of California and the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

He also served a term as a director of the Olympic club of San Francisco, is a member of the Pacific Union club, the San Francisco golf club and the Menlo country club.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Palmer are graduates of the university.

Cancer Panel Issues Statement on Drive

The San Mateo county branch of the American Cancer society is this week mailing letters to its membership explaining why it will conduct its separate annual fundraising campaign in April, rather than joining the United Crusade.

The letter states in part: "Our responsibility is to carry an educational message from house to house . . . If we delegate this major responsibility to a large, impersonal fundraising group, we believe our program will be impaired.

"In no other disease is it so important to know the early warning signals and the importance of early diagnosis. We are firmly convinced that the best possible way of conveying this is by means of personal contact."

Some Dogs Don't:

HAVE LICENSES

Some Menlo Park dogs still don't have their licenses, Poundmaster A. F. Petrucci commented this week.

Licenses first went on sale, at the city's police department, in June. Deadline was July 31. But even yet, some unhappy canines are running around, without evidence to prove that they have homes a-jingling from their collars.

Petrucci points out that dogs are supposed to remain on owners' premises except when "on a leash or under control of a person." But some dogs are hard to convince of this, and if the dog runs off and is picked up, his owner is easier to locate if said dog has a tag.

Such tags, the poundmaster recapitulates, are still on sale at the Menlo Park police station, civic center. Charges are $2 for male and neuter dogs and $3 for females.

FOR 'POINT' PURCHASE

At its regular meeting on Oct. 14, the board of trustees of the San Mateo Junior college district authorized the filing of an application for the purchase of Coyote Point property at a public benefit allowance. This application is an essential step in the consideration of Coyote Point as a single campus site. It permits the board to have positive information that the federal government will release the site if it should be the one decided upon.

Second Annual 'College Day' Scheduled At Menlo-Atherton High School Nov. 5

Parents as well as Menlo-Atherton high school's students will have a chance to hear about the offerings of the schools of their choice at a P-TA meeting which, Nov. 5, will climax "College Day" at the high school.

The day's program will follow closely that of last year's highly successful one in which the upperclassmen at M-A were allowed to hear requested college representatives after an assembly, explaining the purpose of "College Day" and introducing the speakers.

Again, in the evening, at the P-TA meeting, parents will have the opportunity to discuss with the college counselors such things as tuition, living quarters, required courses, etc.

Colleges and universities that have been invited by the CSF organization at the high school, which sponsors the affair with the P-TA, include:

Menlo Park Girls In Queen Contest

Marilyn Rhoades of Atherton, representative of the Associated Women students of San Mateo Junior college, has been selected as one of five finalists who will be the junior college's "Homecom-ing" queen, to reign Nov. 5, 6, and 7. Final election results will be announced on Oct. 29.

Lou Ann Philips of Menlo Park is one of the 16 girls who has been nominated as a candidate for "Homecoming Queen" at San Ma-teo Junior college. She was nom-inated by the Jaycee's engineer-ing club.

By popular vote, five of the 16 candidates will be classed as final-ists. From these five, Cinderella, Queen of the Midnight Magic Ball scheduled for November 7, will be chosen. Her attendants will be the four candidates receiving the next highest number of votes.

The 1953 Homecoming is sched-uled for Nov. 5, 6, and 7 in honor of San Mateo Junior college al-umni.

Symphony Orchestra Plans Concert

The 60-piece California Youth symphony orchestra will present a concert on Sunday, Oct. 25 at 3:30 p. m. in the new auditorium of the San Mateo high school.

Composed of young musicians from all Peninsula communities, the orchestra was organized early in 1952 and has given previous concerts in Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Burlingame and South San Fran-cisco. Injury-Weakened M-A Bears To Clash With Jefferson Gridmen Tomorrow

Jefferson high school varsity, the team that sportswriters and coaches alike tabbed as the preseason Peninsula Athletic League favorite, and Menlo-Atherton, riding high until Burlingame came along last Friday night, vie in a varsity football game tomorrow afternoon at Daly City. Game time is 3 p. m.

For the Bears it doesn't offer much respite after the shellacking they took from Bob Schmidt and company under the arcs at Burlingame. Further, the Bears go into the ball game with an injury list that reads something like a war casualty report.

No less than 13 Bears will either miss the entire game or will be hampered by injuries, most of which were suffered earlier in the season and aggravated in the Burlingame game.

The list:

Starting right guard Bim Beckman, a head concussion received against the Panthers that will sideline him until next week; starting left guard Glenn Day, an ankle injury received Friday night; starting right end Jack Wymer and starting tackles John Raventos and Bob McGee, assorted serious bruises.

Starting fullback Allan Feinstein, pulled knee cartilage that may keep him out the rest of the year; starting safetyman Dick (Yogi) Jorgensen, starting left halfback Pete Welch and starting defensive end Larry Sterling, more assorted bu serious bruises; linebacker and fullback Troy Ratliff, the second leading ground gainer, deep aggravated charley horse.

Two hundred twenty - four pound tackle Ernie Moore, broken finger that will keep him out for several weeks; end Mike Stone, cracked knee cap, lost for the season; linebacker Jim Bush, back injury will cut down his effectiveness.

With this tremendous and yet-growing cripple list it was impossible for Coaches Howard Costello and Don Dorfmeier to make any attempt at a probable starting lineup. They will probably not know for sure until tomorrow morning just who can not play.

TOUGH OPPONENT

Jefferson would be plenty tough even if the locals were at full strength. Veteran quarterback Ray Rosa, one of Northern California's best passers, heads up the attack, throwing from both the T and a modified spread formation. To keep the defense honest Rosa has a trio of good running backs headed by fullback Jim Honeywell, one of the league's top scorers to date.

Thus far the Jeffs have beaten Mt. View 33-14 and Willow Glen 27-0, while being upset by Capuchino 21-7.

DRAMATIC DESERT ISLAND

"THE ADMIRABLE CRICHTON," portrayed by Dr. Irving Weisman, in "desert island" dress, confers with "Lady Mary" as portrayed by Orlean Babich, in one of the scenes from Menlo Players Guild's current offering at the Burgess park Little heater. The production will have two more showings, Friday and Saturday nights. —Anita Fowler photo

'The Admirable Crichton,' Well Portrayed, Treads Boards of Burgess Park Theater

By ALYCE BANKS

Try to imagine an English peer with all the haughtiness and stuffiness we often picture a gentleman of the old English school. With this in mind you can appreciate, as unfolded before us, a delightful comedy by J. M. Barrie, at Burgess park theater. Although the play was written before the turn of the century, and is now done with modern costuming, this does not lessen the play's satirical essence.

"The Admirable Crichton" is a comedy (fantasy in four acts). The play uses two excellently designed sets, one the drawing room of the Earl of Loam, the other the tropical island, complete with thatched hut and undergrowth. Certainly a note of appreciation should be accorded Coral Ann Veal and her crew for their fine sets, which help so much to project the mood of the production.

The cast is long, and certainly well chosen. Irving Weissman's portrayal of Crichton is wonderful, drawing many gay chuckles as a very prim and most proper English butler, then, later, as the leader of the group still maintaining his realistic approach to the part.

"Tweency," played by Kay Duffey, is a most likeable character with a small touch of self-claimed vulgarity.

The three daughters, typical of that era of utter helplessness, were played by Lorraine Bakke, Sybil Goldman and Orlean Babich. The Honorable Ernest Wooley, an English dandy, is finely enacted by Bert Graf.

As the most democratic Earl of Loam, O. Stanley Wells puts a great deal in this part and comes out with a very fine picture of an English peer who could never seem to "assert" himself—a lovable person.

R. Michael Chambers gives the part of Rev. John Treherne dignity. The very pompous Lord Brocklehurst is finely played by Myron Goldman. Lyn Lindsey as Fisher; Frank Annimale doing Tompsett; Lady Brocklehurst by Virginia Cary; Sidney Powell as the naval officer, are all well done.

The rest of this fine cast includes Wally Tunich as Monsieur Fleury, Martha Bateman as Mrs. Perkins, Tony Nicholson as Mr. Rolleston, Carola Waples as Miss Simmons, Sarah Hornig as Madamoiselle Collette, John Apgar, Michael Bateman, Jane Reber as first and second stable boys and the kitchen wench, respectively.

DIRECTOR PRAISED

William R. Furnell took a delightful English comedy, coupled this with a fine, well rehearsed cast and made a production the Menlo Players Guild can certainly be proud of. This effort on the part of the Players Guild rates most favorably with former productions.

Much work and heart has gone into this latest play, and Menlo Players Guild followers should not miss it. The Admirable Crichton is the kind of a comedy that is welcome and that certainly can be transferred into our present day living.

There are two more performances, Oct. 23 and 24 at Burgess park Little theater. Curtain time is 8:30 p. m.

MEET WEDNESDAYS

The Menlo Mixers' intermediate folk dance group, under the direction of Fred Slater, meets on Wednesday evenings at Burgess park gym, beginning at 8:30 p. m.

Panther Star Personally Smashed Locals

Burlingame's Bob Schmidt, the best back to hit the Peninsula Athletic League since Jim Farrell, personally ran Menlo-Atherton high school's varsity football team into the ground last Friday night at Burlingame. The score was 38-20.

Schmidt gained 184 yards net, scored five touchdowns and had 50 yards in gains nullified by penalties. He rambled 23 yards with a screen pass for one score and threw a pass that was dropped in the end zone.

He got the Panthers on the scoreboard early in the first period, driving through the middle from one yard out and then ran 43 yards just a few minutes later. Then, in the third quarter, he got off touchdown runs of 42 and 54 yards within two minutes' time. The final Burlingame score early in the fourth quarter was on a five-yard carry by Bruce Schaake.

Frosh-Sophs Vie With SM, Paly

Menlo-Atherton high school's frosh-soph football team plays San Mateo there today and vies with Palo Alto in a very important tilt at Paly next Thursday.

The Bruins rallied to defeat Sequoia 18-14 in the final seconds last week in a night game at Redwood City.

A 103-yard run with a pass interception by Hal Turner and a 53-yard pass completion from Bud Varty to Donn Thomas in the final quarter produced the scores. Wade Hampton banged over from six yards out in the second stanza for the first teedee. Hampton gained 97 yards to bring his two-game total to 300.

San Mateo Jaycee Plays at Sequoia

San Mateo Junior college plays City college of San Francisco in a conference football game Saturday night on the Sequoia high school field. Starting time is 8 p. m.

Both teams have lost their conference opener, San Mateo losing 32-7 at Sacramento last Friday and San Francisco losing to West Contra Costa. San Francisco recently tied Los Angeles City college 19-19.

Sunday afternoon, athletic offiicals of the Big Seven conference met on the San Mateo JC campus to settle upon a permanent system of scheduling grid games in the future so that different schools could arrange extra games with non-conference opponents on a two-year basis. The group also decided that future grid practice would start about Sept. 7, giving a team the chance for two practice games before the conference schedule started.

MAHS Lightweights Meet Willow Glen

Lightweight basketball teams from Menlo-Atherton high school take on Willow Glen there today in the final first round twin bill of a double round robin schedule. Both of Bob Ayers' squads take 3-1 records into the tilts with them.

The month of November has been set as time for a building fund drive, to raise $60,000 to finance construction of the first unit of the Woodsire road Community Methodist church, on property purchased by the congregation at Woodside road and Alameda de las Pulgas.

Hugh Upton has been named building committee chairman for the church, which was organized less than a year ago and which started with Sunday school sessions at the W. I. Turck home in Atherton.

Norman M. Freed has been named chairman of the Crusade committee which is now assembling and organizing materials for the fund drive.

What's your ? idea of true religion?

Unitarianism is a way of life, life of vigorous thought, constructive activity, of generous service—not a religion of inherited creeds, revered saints, or holy books.

Unitarianism is not an easy religion. It demands that people think out their beliefs for themselves, and then live those beliefs. The stress is placed upon living this life nobly and effectively rather than on the preparation for an after-existence.

If you have given up "old time" religion, Unitarianism has the answer for you.

Atherton Police Nab Juveniles In Stolen Auto

An Atherton police officer early yesterday spotted a car stolen from San Francisco before it was even reported stolen.

While Officer William Burke was making his rounds, he noticed a vehicle speedily entering Atherton's northern limits along El Camino Real. He chased the car to El Camino and Isabella, and stopped it there.

Inside were three juveniles. The driver when questioned admitted he had no operator's license and none of the trio had any idea who the registered owner of the car was.

About that time, Burke noticed that the ignition switch had been "wired" for starting without a key.

After talking to the youths for a while, they admitted to the officer that they had taken the car from Russia street in San Francisco about 12:30 a. m.

Burke then took the three boys to the Atherton station, from where San Francisco police were contacted. Officers up there said they had had no report from the registered owner — Leonard M. Roberts of Long Beach—concerning the pilfering of his car.

Roberts' vehicle, according to Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard, was still at his station Wednesday morning. The three juveniles, who had been away from their San Francisco homes for four days, were taken to detention home.

The youths were reported to be 15, 16 and 17 years of age.

Alameda Merchants, School Officials Join to Plan Hallowe'en Fun Next Week

Plans for a "big time" on the Alameda Oct. 30 progressed this week with members of the newly formed Merchant Committee for the Alameda Shopping Center detailing events for the combined grand opening and Hallowe'en party that night.

On the schedule are free hotdogs, buns, and apples for the youngsters (with coffee and cookies for their parents), games, contests, a costume and bicycle parade, and square dancing.

Officials of the Las Lomitas School district are cooperating to make the event a successful one.

Pupils at two schools—Ladera and Las Lomitas—will participate in contests, with enough prizes planned so that each classroom can have at least one winner. The first six grades in each school will take part in poster-painting contests; the seventh and eighth grades will vie at painting store windows with pictures appropriate to the "spooky" season.

PARADE

Prizes will be awarded both for outstanding costumes and for bicycle decorations taking part in the parade that is to lead off the evening's fun.

The parade is scheduled to leave Las Lomitas school at 6:30 p. m. It will proceed along the Alameda to Avy avenue, thence to Cloud avenue and along Cloud to Gordon avenue, where it is to turn back to the Alameda.

The program is under direction of Mrs. Roy Brown, chairman, assisted by Joe Montalto, Marvin St. Ores and Walt Maloney.

Al Raubitschek is chairman of the newly formed merchants group. Serving with Raubitschek on the advertising and promotion committee are D. W. Keahey, Andy Anderson, and Duncan McQuarrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hovick of 960 Alice lane on Oct. 10 welcomed a new baby girl into the family.

Political Prominents Expected At Wednesday GOP Reception

All Republican women in this area will be given the opportunity to meet GOP leaders of both San Mateo county and Northern California at the autumn membership reception and tea being arranged by the South county council of Republican Women.

Mrs. Albert Hedge of Menlo Park, chairman, has announced that no special invitations have been issued to the event, but that every Republican woman may, nonetheless, consider herself invited.

The tea will be given from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. next Wednesday, October 28, at Marie Antoinette hotel in Menlo Park.

Expected as honored guests are Congressman and Mrs. J. Arthur Younger; Senator and Mrs. Harry L. Parkman; Assemblyman Richard A. Dolwig and Assemblyman and Mrs. Daniel J. Creedon.

DISTAFF SIDE

On the distinguished distaff side are Mrs. Marjorie Benedict, committeewoman for California; Mrs. Gladys A. Penland, president of the Northern division of the California federation of Republican women; Mrs. H. B. Kessler of Palo Alto and Mrs. G. C. Faulkner, the latter two past northern division presidents.

Mrs. Mary Jasper of San Jose, northern division membership extension chairman and historian of the state federation, will also be on hand.

From the county are anticipated Frank B. Ingersoll Jr., chairman of the GOP central committee; Henry Bostwick Jr., executive secretary and Claus Spreckels, united GOP finance committee chairman.

Other volunteer Republican organizations from the county will be represented by their presidents—Mrs. Merritt R. Hosmer, San Carlos, council of GOP women; Dan R. Love Jr., Burlingame, Republican assembly and John Lehman of Menlo Park, Young Republicans.

Completing the roster of outstanding guests will be Earl B. Whitmore, sheriff; Mayor Michael Belangie of Menlo Park and Lester Kelting of South San Francisco, home secretary for Congressman Younger.

The membership reception-tea has been planned to honor Mrs. Harry A. Lawrence, South county council president, and Mrs. B. E. Hayden, immediate past president. Both women are from Menlo Park.

A background of music and autumnal decor will set the pace, according to Mrs. Fred L. Hazelquist, decorations chairman. Mrs. Hedge, incidentally, has asked two Menloites, Mrs. Louis R. Everett and Mrs. Jacob Buist, to pour.

Bobby Weir and Friends Explore 'Outer Spaces'

Bobby Weir and his guests were "out of this world" Saturday, almost literally.

It all began when just under a dozen friends arrived at the Frederick U. Weir residence to help Bobby celebrate the change from five to six years old. Mrs. Weir had settled on a "space" theme for the affair, and started it off by taking the all-male congregation (plus Wendy Weir) to see a super space film.

When the youngsters returned to the Weirs', they were faced with a table of spacegun favors and a cake boasting space ships . . . and to top it all off, Bobby's mother had suspended a paper ball (representing another planet) from the ceiling.

Among the celebrant's gifts were many flying saucers, which the children launched around the neighborhood — Mrs. Weir hopes they didn't give anyone too bad a start!

In on the fun were, besides Bobby and Wendy, Bill Englert, Brad Hexom, Alfred McMicking, Jimmy Johnston, Mike Garouett, Frank and John McKenna, Kent Gilmore, Kirk Aronstram and Mark Schweizer.

Central P-TA's:

NEW PRESIDENT

the presidential chair of Menlo Central P-TA for the first time on November 4. She was recently elected.

Highlight of the meeting, to convene at 8 p. m. in Central school auditorium, will be a talk on "Character building and child guidance" by Dr. Ruth Kokjer, county schools psychiatrist.

Hospitality chairman for the evening is Mrs. Helen Lindfors.

Green Oaks, the 100th P-TA, Elects Mrs. Roden President

Green Oaks P-TA is the 100th unit of San Mateo county's 17th District California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Last Monday night the new unit was organized under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry Caplan, 17th district president. Mrs. Roy N. Cloud Jr., district health chairman, was recording secretary and Mrs. Faun Tuska, extension chairman, installed the new officers.

Mrs. Albert Roden, president, and her staff of officers were unanimously elected to serve for the first year. She will be assisted by Mrs. Harry N. Reinhardt as vice president; James J. Welch, honorary vice president; Mrs. Chris Roman, recording secretary; Mrs. J. M. Brookhart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. H. Meseke, treasurer; Mrs. A. R. Nelson, auditor and Mrs. Frank Zubke, historian.

Mrs. Roden has lived in the old East Palo Alto area for some seven years, rearing two children, Sally and George. At present, Sally is a freshman in high school and George, a seventh grader.

In the past, the Green Oaks president has taught school and since her arrival in this area has been interested in P-TA work, the Ravenswood Boosters club and the Red Cross.

After a report that the salvage drive concluded last week netted the Green Oaks student body $13.96 and the P-TA $26.67, it was moved, seconded and passed that all future proceeds from salvage drives will belong exclusively to the student body.

A second action taken by the P-TA was the decision to co-sponsor a Hallowe'en party for seventh and eighth graders on October 31 with the Ravenswood Recreation association.

Mrs. Roden thanked members for electing her and her staff, but warned them that he P-TA will only succeed insofar as all members take part. She issued slips to each, asking that they indicate where they feel they can help. They were also asked to volunteer to chaperone the party.

Dues have been set at 50 cents per person; the P-TA will meet the third Wednesday of each month and two representatives of the Green Oaks student body, preferably a girl and a boy, and one to be the president, are to be members of the P-TA executive board. The unit will meet the third Monday of each month.

Ralph K. Davies' Entertain Guests From Kuwaite

Two princes, heirs to the throne of Kuwaite, and a merchant friend from the same country were honored guests Saturday at a luncheon held for them by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph K. Davies of Woodside.

The threesome, who represented a firm owned jointly by England and the Gulf Oil company—proprietors of the richest oil well in the world—had just completed about six weeks of touring through the United States and Mexico.

The Davies, official California hosts of the Kuwaite visitors, took their charges around San Francisco, which they ranked second only to New York, and nearby areas. The young men left Saturday at midnight for the Hawaiian islands.

Kuwaite, a small country toward the top of Arabia, has become prominent of late because of its oil richness.

TONIGHT is "Rathskeller" night for members of the Circus club—this "stop" on the international food tour will feature authentic German food and refreshment.

Remember:

SATURDATE

Mrs. Joseph Musto, recently returned from Europe, and her daughter Judy will join the ranks of the models for Saturday's style show and tea at the Convent of the Sacred Heart.

The affair, designed to raise funds toward the installation of a swimming pool, will begin at 2 p. m. Reservations may be made by calling the convent at DA 3-1393.

One of the features of the show will be a full panorama of apparel for the "misses" and "masters" worn by more than a score of youthful convent pupils.

Scout Board Plans Traditional Dinner

At yesterday's final meeting of the Menlo-Atherton district Girl Scout board, plans were mulled for the association's annual potluck dinner, open to every adult interested in Scouting.

The dinner is to be given at Encinal school, with Mrs William Steiner and Mrs. Thomas Leigh sharing the responsibilities of general arrangement. Decorations are under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph Hanna.

Featured on the program will be two troop demonstrations, the first presented by members of Encinal school Brownie troop 100 led by Mrs. C. E. Larson. Mrs. J. A. Watt's Intermediate troop 106 from Fremont will demonstrate a patrol system in action, stressing the democratic phases of Scouting.

Mrs. Hanna reports that she will distribute around the tables samples of Scout craft work which can be developed at Christmas ideas and which leaders can work out with their groups.

Two other highlights of the dinner will include the election of officers, who will take over their terms in January, and roundtable discussions on how each troop can develop individual responsibility —suggestions contributed will be shared by the entire group at dinner.

EVENING BRIDGE I, an AAUW section, will gather at 8 p. m. October 28 with Mrs. W. D. Riddle Jr., 1445 Middle avenue.

Party Set for MP Court

Hallowe'en will be the motif Monday evening for a progressive dinner planned by members of the Court of the Holy Rosary, Catholic Daughters of America.

Women from the Menlo Park court will gather first for 6 p.m. hors d'oeuvres at the home of Mrs. C. A. Orth, 710 Runnymede street, Palo Alto. From there, they will take to the road again, this time to Grand Regent Mrs. Margaret Gross' for salad(the address is 1070 Noel drive).

Mrs. Frances Maloney and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Fisher, are serving as co-hostesses for the third, and main, course at the Maloney home, 1108 Pine street. Winding up the relay meal will be dessert served by Mrs. Yolanda Sylvester and Mrs. Catherine Maher—in the latter's house at 1253 University drive.

All this traveling from house to house is to be done in costume, and prizes will be in the offing for the most original.

What's Doing In Menlo Park's 'Teen-Age Set

By

DA 3-9975 Melinda Percy and Jo Booth DA 3-1909

The "Blockbusters" have arrived!

Who are they, you ask? Well, they are the newest organization of boys in this area, who have joined together forming a hot-rod club to "get auto safety, safe hot-rodding, financial backing and a place to work."

A group of fellows, most of them from Menlo-Atherton HS, are now looking for stores to sponsor the club, which has as its honorary member, Lefty Currel of the MP police force.

Anyone interested in backing the club should call Dave Roos at DA 5-1734.

Officers and members of the "Blockbusters" are: Pat Born, prexy; Bob Carroll, veep; Phil Roos, secretary-treasurer; also Ralph and Tom Strong, Fred Gayer, Bill Walker, Dave Cobbledick, Mark Mott, Bob and Dick Carroll, Bob Brewer, Barry Daniel, Jim Symons, John Bugna, Don Holland, Don George, Bob Massing, Bruce Hildreth, Jerry DeLair, Carol Hienemann, Tod Roswicky, Terry Trumbell and John Born.

* * *

Before M-A's ill-fated game with Burlingame last Friday evening, Margie Kriz and Mary Jane Heinrich co-hostessed a buffet supper at Mary Jane's MP home, which proved to many to be the only pleasant aspect of the evening!

When the girls arrived, they were pinned with the names of football stars (from M-A) on their backs, and told to guess who they were. After much guessing, the following girls discovered their athletic "counterparts":

Joanne "Dan Varty" Sanford, Glenda "Glenn Day" Spear, Gail "John Raventos" McAlpine, Heather "Mike Stone" McAlpine, Donna "Bim Beckman" Marston, Pat "Bill Hilton" Fallon, Sandy "Phil Knight" Holmquist, Melinda "Jim Jervis" Percy, Corenne "Bob McGee" Kovas, Retta "Jerry Demma" Ohran, Kay "Tom Blackwood" Allard and Carla Jones. (She was too busy in the kitchen to take part in the game!) Yvonne Angelo, Maxine "Earl Johnson" Leider and Jane "Jim Cabaniss" Bell.

* * *

That same evening, but after the game, a surprise slumber-birthday party was given for Nan Noble at the new home of Ellen Fitzsimmons.

Thoroughly surprising Nan, and singing all night and morning were Ellen, Anna Burns, Ann Lundgren, Valerie Robertson, Helen Stetson, Alyce-Mae Cleland and Page Godbe.

* * *

Seen at the Stanford-UCLA game on Saturday were Helen Burgess, Kathy Hollander, Pat Simon, Anne Duniway, Bunny Clark, Robin Moseley and Donna Fallis. Whooo were they rooting for?

Six boys were off on a very unusual sport. Duck hunting! Bob McAllister shot two ducks, but Paul McAllister, Howard White, Bob Ackerman, Bruce McAllister and Dennis Brown were out of luck.

Oh, well, try again!

* * *

When two people get together to have a party, it's a lot of fun for both, and not half as much work for either! And it's a success, too, as was Martha Dukinfield and Ann Wegner's.

Among the guests who were playing games, dancing, and eating, were Larry Cook, Keith Carter, Patty Kerwin, Norman Reagan, Al White and a late comer, Bruce Carter.

* * *

Take twelve boys, maybe Tom Paine, Chuck Holland, Al Eames, Gary Combes, Harlow Wright, John Severtson, Herb Messenger, Arlo Leavno, Paul Baxter, Mike Thornton and Carl Rountree (have some of them come from other schools) and mix with the same number of girls, Barbara Rhoades, Mikel Ann Edlan, Virginia Levensaler, Sue Fogel, Carolyn Welz, Liz Ann Crary, Helen Brainerd, Diane Ledyard, Donna Newport and Joanne Felkner.

Put them all in a house, have Carol Blake as hostess, and combine well with a barbecue supper, dancing, and games.

Results—one swell party!

Margaret Goodlive twirled a second place in the instructors' division of competition held Saturday at Moose hall in Oakland.

Delphian Society

Theta chapter of the Delphian society held its regular meeting yesterday at the fraternal hall here. Topic for discussion was "Education: Medium of Survival?"

Mrs. L. C. Burrill was the day's leader, while speakers were Mrs. R. S. Ferguson, Mrs. A. C. Hammerman, Mrs. J. M. Fitzmaurice, Mrs. K. B. Baldwin and Mrs. Lowell Wolfe.

Bodleys Disclose Daughter's Marriag

The announcement this week by Mr. and Mrs. Phil R. Bodley of Laurel street regarding the elopement of their daughter Darlene Marie and Ralph Cowden has been coupled with an invitation to a reception-shower in the young couple's honor.

The affair will be held at East Palo Alto Community church tomorrow night.

Darlene was chosen Palo Alto ski queen last January and was runner-up in the Northern California ski queen contest. As a winner, with the queen and other attendants. she was given a week's vacation at Squaw Valley lodge.

Pipper Hooper and his sister Linda and eight very, very young guests had a heyday Monday afternoon at the Frank Hooper home in Woodside. The occasion was Pipper's third birthday.

Brentwood Is Safety-Minded

"Safety First" has become the watchword of Brentwood P-TA.

Currently, the parent-teacher association is looking for more male recruits for the Parents' patrol.

Members of the patrol rotate so that their duty falls a half-hour twice a month. Shifts take in 7:40 a. m. to 8:05 a. m.; 11:30 a. m. to noon; 3 p. m. to 3:25 p. m. Volunteers will be gratefully welcomed, even though they only serve a half-hour a month or when they feel like it.

The patrol was formed as a result of the rainy season last year during which time the corner of Donohoe and Clark streets was one large mud hole and a considerable traffic tie-up.

The drainage problem has been worked out on one the hand, and the parents' (formerly mothers') patrol formed to aid the traffic end of it. At the present time there are almost 70 members in the "traffic force," but more are needed if it is to be successful this wet season.

In addition to the patrol part of things (under the leadership of Mrs. Henry C. Melen), Brentwood P-TA is now laying plans for a bang-up bicycle safety campaign to be headed by Ernest Sexton, safety chairman.

Beginning the week of October 26, there will be classroom instruction on bicycle safety, followed by films from the California State Automobile club the week of November 2.

Safety inspection of the two-wheeled vehicles is scheduled to start November 9; and when the inspection is launched, two three-inch strips of scotchlite tape will be put on rear fenders of all bikes checked.

"Two-wheelers" passing the test will be given "safe bicycle" emblems; additional emblems will be available to the bikes having safety delinquencies corrected after inspection. Helping on this will be Fordon McKeon from the office of the county of superintendent of schools.

On November 16 the P-TA is sponsoring a "Bike Rodeo," with prizes of bicycle accessories available for all first and second place winners in each age group for each activity in the contest.

Halwen A. Dunker, cusomer relations manager for Allstate insurance company, is helping in this event.

Climaxing everything will be the November 17 P-TA meeting at which time winners of the contest will be presented.

INFORMALS

Invitations for the Deep Peninsula Informals of the Menlo Circus club were mailed last week to boys and girls of the 10th, 11th and 12th grades and to freshmen boys in college.

EXPECTING IMPORTANT VISIT

PLANNING SESSION—Members of the Tri Delta alliance of Palo Alto gathered last week to discuss plans for the visit from their top national alumnae officers. Among those present at the session were (left to right) Mrs. William Dunlap of Menlo Park, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Silker, recording secretary; Mrs. Parkman Moore, publicity chairman and Mrs. Daniel R. Kelley, another Menloite, president. —Recorder photo

Co-op Dance Group Sets Friday Meeting

Members of the Palo Alto Co-op dance, a group counting several Menloites among its participants, will gather at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the P.A. home of Mrs. G. K. Mowry, 978 Van Auken circle.

The dance group offers, its members feel, the only possibility for creative dance in the Peninsula area. Associated with a San Francisco studio, counterparts of the cooperative classes may be found throughout East Bay and Marin locales.

There are currently about 75 active members, with many more on the waiting list. Classes are offered each Friday afternoon at the South Palo Alto library for pre-school children, for kindergarteners and for adults—soon to open will be courses for 10 to 12 year olds.

Anyone in this area desiring further information on the creative dance instruction, may call Mrs. Mowry at DA 5-1332.

Mothers Honored

New room mothers of Belle Haven school were feted at an organizational tea Friday, October 9, given by room mother chairmen, Mrs. Don Davis and Mrs. Henry Truitt.

Discussion included plans for the four parties given during the school year and room mother hostesses at P-TA meetings.

PLANNING A MOVE

Contemplating a move shortly to San Francisco are Sue Hill Logan and Bill Logan, who have recently rented their home here. The Logans and their children Eddy and Robin hope, however, to spend next summer down Menlo Park way.

Tri Delts Prepare for Visit From Top National Officers

Tri Delts of the Palo Alto alliance are looking forward to meeting and entertaining their five national officers on Hallowe'en, October 31.

The national "top echelon" are paying their first visit to the West Coast; they will be houseguests of Mrs. Harry M. Creech before continuing on their way to Pasadena for the Panhellenic conference.

The local Tri Delt alliance has issued invitations to alumnae up and down the peninsula to attend the reception being planned on the 31st, and to be held at the Palo Alto home of Mrs. Creech, 215 Lowell avenue.

The five officers to be honored are Mrs. Claiborne H. Kinnard of Franklin, Tennessee, president; Mrs. George D. Rudolph of Baltimore, Maryland, alumnae secretary; Mrs. Edward N. Notesteen of Minneapolis, Minnesota, collegiate secretary.

Mrs. John Fletcher of New York City, treasurer, and Miss Rosemary Oliver, Chicago, executive secretary.

Mrs. Charles H. Schumacher of Menlo Park is chairman of the reception, assisted by Mrs. Neil Houston and Miss Ellen Hibbard.

PREVIEW OF MONDAY MAIL

HARD AT WORK—On Friday afternoon, members of the women's auxiliary to the Children's Health council gathered at Mrs. Roy Robinette's home in Atherton to address, stamp and get out the hundreds of invitations to their "Ghost party," slated for receipt on Monday. Tackling a pile of envelopes are (left to right) Mrs. Frederick Titus, Mrs. Allen Chickering, Jr., auxiliary chairman, and Mrs. Vernon Kimball. —Recorder photo

No-Host Ghost Party:

"You're Invited Not To Come" Read Auxiliary's Surprise Bids

There are probably many happy Menlo-Atherton couples this evening who are planning on reading that good book they've tried to get at for a long time or who are retiring early to catch up on lost sleep.

Why all this sudden inactivity?

They've been invited by the Children's Health council auxiliary to attend a "Ghost party." Invitations to the affair—dressed up in the Halloween mode with many happy ghosts and a tombstone—bear the following inscription:

"The auxiliary of the Children's Health council invites you to a GHOST PARTY . . . no date . . . don't dress up . . . no time . . . don't even come. All that will be seen of any guest will be your donation, $10 a couple."

Mrs. Allen Chickering Jr. of Woodside, president of the auxiliary and genius behind this novel fundraising idea, announces that (1) Even those who didn't receive an invitation are invited not to come; and (2) If you don't have $10 to give, sums under that amount will be just as gratefully received.

Donations may be sent to the council's office at 904 Bryant street, Palo Alto, and checks are payable to the Palo Alto Medical Research foundation, 333 Channing avenue, Palo Alto. The Children's Health council is a division of the medical foundation.

Aim and dream of the organization is eventually to fulfill the need for optimum child care in all fields.

Members of the women's auxiliary include:

Mrs. Antoine Bovet, Mrs. George Bunvan, Mrs. Chickering, Mrs. Francis Cowles, Mrs. Alexander Donald, Mrs. Charles de Bretteville, Mrs. Edward Eyre, Jr., Mrs. Sam Eastman, Jr., Mrs. Launce J. Gamble, Mrs. Paul Gibson, Mrs. Charles Gillespie, Mrs. Richard Gonzales, Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. Phelps Hunter.

Mrs. Marron Kendrick, Mrs. Vernon Kimball, Mrs. William Kratt, Mrs. Lucio Mintzer ,Mrs. Joseph Musto, Mrs. H. B. Perrin, Mrs. John Rickey, Mrs. Roy Robinette, Jr., Mrs. Allan Starr, Mrs. Ernest Stent, Mrs. Ernest Sultan, Mrs. Frederick Titus, Mrs. Howard Waterman, Mrs. Marshall Westcott and Mrs. Clarence Young.

Sponsors are:

Mrs. Harold Barnard, Mrs. Horace Blinn, Mrs. Rodney Boone, Mrs. Leonard Bradbury, Mrs. Gardner Bullis, Mrs. Martin Dinkelspiel, Mrs. Richard Elkus, Mrs. Donald Hampton, Mrs. Proctor Jones, Mrs. Richard Johnston, Jr., Mrs. Gareth Kellam.

Mrs. Henry Kuechler Mrs. Ferber Libby, Mrs. William Lowe, Mrs. William Lucas, Mrs. Sherman McDonald, Mrs. Charles Norris, Mrs. Edward Rochford, Mrs. Vasili Romanoff, Mrs. Leland Rosener, Mrs. Lawrence Steinhardt and Mrs. Howard White.

Monday Bridge Honors

Highest honors in the Menlo Atherton Monday bridge session went to Mrs. Earl Morton and Mrs. Ruby Osborn.

Following close behind them were Mrs. Harrison Fuller and Mrs. Carl Homer; Mrs. Stephen Chelbay and Mrs. S. P. Larkin; Mrs. H. E. Law and Mrs. Newton Hale; Ann White and Nell Bozzinger; Mrs. Charles De Bretteville and Mrs. Launce Gamble.

Brentwood Parents Okay Three Recommendations

When Brentwood P-TA held its meeting Tuesday night, members accepted three recommendations. They concerned:

First, a paid guard for peak school rush hours at the corner of Pulgas and O'Connor street; second, physical aid to the Ravenswood Recreation association if a playground extension is put in at the school and third, a Hallowe'en party for Brentwood children in conjunction with the recreation association.

The membership campaign was extended to November 13, because of the flood of envelopes received just prior to the meeting. It was decided that classes winning attendance prizes be given up to $1.50 for the purchase of records to be used in their classroom.

Jack Wildman Feted At Bridal (?) Shower

The male half of the soon-to-be-wed couple, Jack Savage Wildman and Barbara Albertson, was feted last Friday afternoon with a shower the prospective bridegroom will not soon forget.

Feature of the affair was a large white cake decorated with two stick figures—one of a savage wildman (Jack's "trademark") and the other of a female s. w. leading the former with a chain.

Gifts presented to the fetee included such useful items as ear plugs, a model aircraft kit, a melon baller, a toy dog, a doll's apron (for helping with the dishes) and a "Guide to Pink Elephants."

GIRL SCOUT WEEK begins Sunday, and will last through Friday.

Youngest Murray Son Reported 'At Home'

"A diller, a dollar, a 10 o'clock holler . . ."

If this young baby, born October 9, follows in his father's footsteps, the "holler" will some day turn into "scholar." The infant is Douglas David Murray II, son of Douglas D. Murray, teacher-counselor at Menlo-Atherton high school, and Barbara L. Murray.

Young Douglas David II was born at 3:25 a. m. in the Kaiser foundation Harbor hospital of San Francisco; at present, the baby is firmly ensconced in his crib at the family home in Redwood City, where he is the object of admiration by sister Diana Lee and brother James Worden.

Emerson-McKinley Win

Mrs. Vera Emerson and Mrs. E. L. McKinley won the Thursday evening bridge tournament sponsored by Menlo-Atherton Bridge club.

Runners-up were Mrs. Helen Morton with Don Kirk; Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Jones; Mrs. Joseph Herlihy with Mrs. W. A. MacNicholl; Mrs. Virginia Feneren with Sue Curtis and Mrs. Katherine Soderberg with Mrs. Anne Taylor.

COFFEE PRECEDES BOARD MEETING

Courses, Courses, Courses . . .

There's A 'No Man's Land' In Adult School Schedule

There is in Mr. Willard Bradley's schedule of adult school courses a certain area which might be called "No Man's Land." There are 195 women—no men—enrolled in this span of classes covering dressmaking, tailoring, home management, interior decoration, flower arrangement and glove making.

Last year, according to Bradley, the head of the Menlo-Atherton high school adult program, there might have been a participating male—or perhaps it was a female —at any rate, it is generally known that a stray cat made his or her home in one of the rooms used for adult instruction.

This year the teachers and students have things to themselves.

SEW, SEW

For instance, Isabelle Crittendon instructs a general sewing course still open on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. at MAHS.

From the curriculum roundup, it appears to be more than well worth the time.

Starting off with pattern selection, cutting and construction guides, the course goes on to such things as pattern marking, necessary adjustments, folding and pinning and diagrams.

There is also a short course on the sewing machine, with instruction in its uses. Selection of materials, color and suitability to pattern, texture, cost, and laundering quality follows.

MARKINGS

Under the heading of "construction process" are the various kinds of markings on various materials—knots, chalk, thread and tracing wheel. The mystery of seams is unveiled, including those that are plain, French and flat filled, then finished seams — pinked, stitched, bound and overcast.

Other arts covered by the class comprise bias binding; facing and pleating; gathers; shoulder, underarm and waist darts; fittings; sleeves—set in, novelty and cap; hems—plain, fitted facing and stitched; pockets; and a final discussion on pressing.

Home management is another offering, taught by Anna Fitzhugh Bell on Monday nights from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. Also housed at MAHS.

This course touches on "Your homemaking job and you"; values, goals and attittudes; health and fatigue; time control; labor saving skills and habits; food costs in today's markets.

ACCOUNTING

Then home management and household accounting; cleaning, upkeep and repair; nutritional foods; cooking and entertaining; what to wear, how to wear it and what price; family job organization and special recipes for special purposes.

Winding up the class will be a discussion of wills, insurance and investment; and, finally, "You as a widow." The last meeting of the series will serve as a summary.

Mrs. E. P. Hunt supervises the flower arranging course, which is conducted on Wednesday mornings, 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. at the MP rec center and from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. at MAHS.

Fields covered by Mrs. Hunt range from basic principles of art in floral arrangements through consideration of placement and room arrangement to the use of flower groupings for different occasions.

PROPER CONTAINERS

Also in this course will be instruction in proper containers and accessories, background modifications, floral arrangements of other than flowers and tools to be used.

The tailoring class goes into more detail and is more advanced than the general sewing series. Jean Margaret Hanson is the mentor of the former, which holds forth Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. at the high school.

Glove making, one of the newest offerings, is being taught by Mrs. Claire Hearst, who intends to point up all fabrics and leathers used for gloves; various gloves worn for various occasions; and the outstanding fact that this apparel may be made without a sewing machine. in fact, should all be hand-stitched.

Mrs. Hearst's course is slated for 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. Wednesdays at MAHS.

The final class in "No Man's Land" is one on interior decorating, under the supervision of Walter Murray, San Francisco expert. Time is Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.; place, the high school.

Registrations are still open in these classes, Bradley notes, but the sooner the enrollment, the better since instruction has already begun.

Get the GREYHOUND habit!

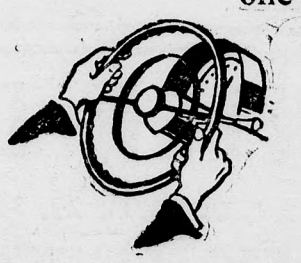

Another HIDDEN TAX

The toll of the highways may reach 40,000 killed and 2,000,000 injured. These are stark statistics in themselves. But there's another toll, too!

Every American family of four, whether they have had an accident or not—or even if they don't own an automobile—will pay an average of $100 a year in hidden costs as the result of speeding, reckless driving. This is the nation's highway accident bill, to be paid through increased taxes, wage losses, mounting insurance costs, medical and hospital bills, property damage and other charges. The total will run to nearly $4,000,000,000—enough to build a city of 200,000 homes costing $20,000 each. Believe it or not, there is an average economic loss of about $95,000 for every person killed.

This stupendous waste can be curbed only when the American public becomes sufficiently aroused to demand concerted, nation-wide action—more law enforcement, more highway patrols, and more teeth in penalties—to rid the highways of devil-may-care drivers and moronic accident repeaters. Get back of any safety movement in your community. Think and talk safety.

When death, maiming and destruction take over the highways, someone pays—and that someone is you—it's all of us.

Married Friday Evening:

Justwed Bill Wilsons Travel South

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH W. WILSON

Some 500 friends and members of the family were on hand Friday evening to see off the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Wilson (June Evelyn Felsch).

The bride, daughter of East Palo Altans Mr. and Mrs. George W. Felsch Sr., and her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Wilson of Mountain View, were married at Stanford Memorial church.

For her wedding, June wore a lovely gown fashioned of lace over satin and styled with the traditional fitted bodice, full-length sleeves and chapel train. Worn with the dress were two objects of sentiment—one, a pearl necklace, gift from the bridegroom; and second, the handerkerchief which had been carried by his mother and grandmother.

COMPLETES ENSEMBLE

Completing the bridal ensemble was a fingertip veil, held by a lace and seed pearl Juliet cap, and a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Preceding June down the aisle were four attendants. Mrs. William C. Irwin, her sister, served as matron of honor; Janeth Nuttall and Mary Gamma were bridesmaids and Mary Susanna Britton, the bridegroom's niece, acted as flower girl.

Mrs. Irwin was dressed in floor length mauve taffeta and nylon net, contrasted with pale blue chrysanthemums; the secondary attendants wore similar gowns of pale blue and carried mauve 'mums, while Mary Susanna was attired in a pale green frock with which she carried a basket of pale pink rose petals.

BEST MAN

Glenn E. Wilson, brother of Bill (as the bridegroom is known) stood by as best man. Ushers were Glen A. Wilson and Charles Coleman, Bill's cousins; George W. Felsch Jr., June's brother, and William C. Irwin.

Following wedding rites, which were read by Bishop Keith E. Garner of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, guests attended a reception at the Menlo Park ward recreation hall.

Goodbyes were bid as the justwed couple left for their honeymoon tour of Mexico and the Southwestern states. When they return, June and Bill will be "at home" on Loyola drive in Los Altos.

ROSE SOCIETY SPEAKER

The president of the Santa Clara county Rose society will speak at today's meeting of the AAUW garden section to be held at the home of Mrs. Bertha Wells.

Work Weekend Coming Up for Peninsula Parents

Like bustling ants preparing for a long, cold winter will be the parents, teachers and friends of Peninsula school this weekend. The Saturday and Sunday coming up marks Peninsula's annual Work Weekend, the first of a series of events to emphasize the role of parent partnership in the school.

Volunteers, be they amateur or professional, are asked to join in the painting, repairing and construction needed to refurbish buildings and grounds. Heading the list of projects this year are tree houses, a jungle gym, reroofing, window washing and landscaping.

Tieh Ying Wu, general chairman, is being assisted by job foremen Phillip Eastman, E. C. Puccini, W. E. Meyerhof, J. V. Fleming, Ralph Schram, Sherman D. Thacher, Edward R. Williams and John Schneider.

The Girls Who Twirl Have Won in a Whirl

Handsful of baton-twirling honors went to local lasses this weekend.

Natalie Fancher, who is now a San Jose 'Stater, won three titles at the Oakland Moose state-wide drum and drill festival. The tintillating 'twirler took first place in the instructors' division; second place in the two-baton twirl; and second place in twirling (a baton) while blindfolded.

The Bonnie Lasses—Anne Williams, Isabelle Ramirez, Sandy Galen, Nadine Gattoni and Linda White—all members of the Ravenswood recreation baton group, took a blue ribbon in the junior division, baton ensemble.

The capable quintette competed against girls from Pomona, Long Beach and Los Angeles. Isabelle and Anne won, in addition, a third place in the junior division of the duet. The baton club is under the direction of Natalie Fancher.

Athertonian Named 'Boss of the Year'

William Fairley of Atherton was chosen "Boss of the Year" yesterday, when members of the Executive Secretaries, Inc. feted the Men with a second annual "Bosses' Night" at Rickey's.

Fairley is an associate of the E. T. Haas company in Belmont.

Entertainment for the evening was arranged by Jane Goelet of Menlo Park ,the program director, and included Katherine Kay and Eddie Bartell. Besides the bosses and their secretaries, families and guests participated in the festivities.

PV's Dinner Dance Slated for Saturday

Peninsula Volunteers will be piling on clothing, jewelry and hats Saturday night for the annual "Shirt Off Your Back" dinner dance at the Menlo Circus club.

All the excess apparel, which will be displayed during the Grand March, will go to stock the PV's Turnabout shop in South Palo Alto, where some of the funds used toward Little House are raised.

Time for cocktails and grand marching has been set at 7 p.m.

'Pruning, Feeding Trees' To Be Garden Club Topic

Keith Davey of the Davey tree company, will speak on "Pruning and Feeding Trees" when the Menlo Park Garden club holds its regular meeting next Monday, October 26, at 8 p. m. in the temporary Little House, 808 Menlo avenue.

Jack Gibson, landscape architect formerly scheduled to speak this month has postponed his talk until November.

Friday Whist Party

Friday will be a whist-full evening for the Nativity guild of the Church of the Nativity. The women's group is, at that time, scheduling the monthly card party to be held at 8:30 p.m. in the church hall, Oak Grove avenue.

The public is cordially invited to attend the affair, which is designed to help raise funds toward a new parish school.

Committee members working on the project are Mrs. A. G. Thompson, Mrs. Michael Butera, Mrs. J. E. Galis and Mrs. R. C. Peterman.

MA P-TA SENIOR PARENTS TO MEET

The first coffee hour for parents of Menlo-Atherton seniors will be held Wednesday, October 28, at 9:30 a. m. in the teachers' lunchroom, it has been announced by Mrs. J. W. Phillips, P-TA senior class sponsor.
